Dear reader,

Referring to your letter to the Director on the n. 10 Review, I read with pleasure about your opinion. I compared it with the mediation given by Wood at the end of the XIX Century and published on the n. 9 Psychosynthesis Review, April 2008. I appreciated you emphasized the double reading of the reality and I share your opinion about the author, who didn’t give to our minds the opportunity of challenging his doubts: questions that may guide us to the Faith after a fruitful meditation.

He seems to be scared of an aptitude and a peculiarity which is a main part of Human Nature, with a big effort to accept and integrate it.

I share your point of view, dear Silvio, but no reader felt himself involved in opening his mind, so that I take the chance to remind other attentive and “doubtful” readers that the request of a writing is always welcome and longed for.

It is my pleasure to communicate that we are allowed to know - through a random access to the site web - the number of people reading the Review, a number which counts now several thousands people.

Accesses take place from Nations all over the World and the share of everyone is surely precious and peculiar.

Patrizia Bonacina