

Be Your True Self: Discovering Inner Resources

- In Everyday Life
- In Family and Organizations
- In Clinical Applications
- In Global Issues

Montréal, Québec, Canada
August 5-9, 2015

Photo Courtesy Marjorie Hope Gross

23

at the Campus of John Abbott College
21 275 Lakeshore Road, Sainte-Anne-de-Bellevue,
Québec, H9X 3L9, Canada
<http://www.johnabbott.qc.ca>

(NOTE: US citizens MUST have a passport to get back to the USA — apply early!
The process may take a long time)

The Self and the many interpretations of this “higher” or “deeper” aspect of human experience are of growing interest in the field of psychology and human development. More and more clinicians and searchers are discovering that in order to help people effectively or to move forward on their paths, people need to access the heights as well as the depths of their being. Psychosynthesis provided one of the earliest models that embraced and illuminated the wholeness possible to humanity. This conference hopes to access and present the classical psychosynthesis models and new approaches, research and applications that make the Self a transformative element in the practical world of everyday life and in clinical practice. Presentations at this conference will be of interest and use to practitioners in other disciplines of psychology and education as well as other helping professions.

Talks, Experiential Workshops, Work/Practice Groups Innovative Group Activities

ASSOCIATION FOR THE ADVANCEMENT OF PSYCHOSYNTHESIS

For Registration and information, go to www.aap-psychosynthesis.org

