TABLE OF CONTENTS

Dear readers,

I believe that the Psychosynthesis magazine is now part of our lives and our readings. For many years in April and October you have been waiting for it and, since it arrives on your screen, you place it symbolically as on a lectern and you are ready to welcome and deepen the point of view of other psychosynthesists.

The pandemic failed to harness the bio-psycho-spiritual research that distinguishes the humanistic psychological current founded by Roberto Assagioli. Each of us seeks harmony and inner beauty so that in these moments we forget the charm of speed and let ourselves be involved in the slowness of a reading that will not disappoint us.

As an editorial group we have chosen the evocative word Recognition which leads to discernment and appreciation of what is valid for our self-training. But there is news concerning the world of the online network! In fact, the website www.psicosintesi.it will soon be renewed and made more agile to access and learn about the many facets of the Institute and the Centers.

Furthermore, the telematic medium has opened up new ways of communicating, previously unavailable. It will now be possible to unite Italian members and our friends around the world with conferences and courses held online.

The 34th National Congress was held in Catania in September on the theme "The Mission of our Time", which proposed the conscious reinterpretation of our present to lay the foundations for future projects.

Enjoy reading.
